For Youth

ENGAGE

After such a difficult year, you deserve a great summer. Thanks to the passage of the American Rescue Plan, there will be a historic investment in summer opportunities for youth in Vermont. These opportunities included on this page include ways for you to connect with friends and your community, help pave the way to normalcy with your input, explore careers, find summer jobs, and most of all have FUN.

ENRICH

Your lives have been put on hold and you've missed out on your favorite activities like sports, performing arts, academic support, exploring the outdoors, and simply hanging out with your friends or having opportunities to meet new friends. Click on this URL to check out the summer programs near you or search who's hiring:

EARN

We know you missed out on some opportunities to be independent this past year—like get a new job, save money, or make your own purchases. As we get back to normal and things open back up, there are a ton of businesses interested in hiring teens. These include camps, restaurants, landscaping businesses, retail stores, and so many others.

Looking for a job working with kids this summer? Consider working at a summer camp or summer learning program in your community! F

- Fill out our intake form and we'll match you with programs looking to hire teens and young adults. www.vermontafterschool.org/recruit

Open positions for everyone. Are you looking for something else? Here are job postings from across the state for all Vermonters of any age. www.vermontjoblink.com

Know your rights. More information on the employment of minors can be found here. The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) requires “for profit” employers to pay employees for their work. In Vermont, this means paying the state minimum wage of $11.75 per hour. To determine if one should get compensation as an intern, this fact sheet is helpful in understanding the distinctions. If you have questions, feel free to call the Vermont Department of Labor’s Wage and Hour Division at (802) 951-4083 or email Labor.WageHour@vermont.gov

Are you a Vermonter who receives Social Security Benefits (SSI or SSDI) and want to learn more about the incentives to go to work? Call the VR Work Benefits Helpline for more information (800-361-1239) or visit the Benefits Counselor Program page.

EXPLORE

Are you starting to think about what kind of career you’re interested in and how to explore these options? Perhaps a mentor could be a helpful resource as you explore these options and think about your future.
